POLITICS;

Turkey, Erdogan declared winner of presidential polls; Turkish voters had for the first time cast ballots for both president and parliament in the snap elections, with Erdogan looking for a first round knockout and an overall majority for his ruling Justice and Development Party. Read More

ENERGY IN THE NEWS;

Kiir and Bashir to hold oil talks in Khartoum; the meeting between the two leaders will discuss measures to be taken to rehabilitate the South Sudanese economy through bilateral cooperation between the Republic of South Sudan and the Republic of Sudan. Read More

NATIONAL;

Why Ugandans are excited about the new highway; the 51km journey has been a pain. Where one would ordinarily make it to Entebbe in 45 minutes, it used to take two hours or more. The highway boasts the longest bridge in the region, at 1.5 kilometres, suspended over a swamp in a show of environmental sensitivity for major construction. Read More

COURT;

Lawyer questions delayed judgment of age limit petition; the Constitution Amendment Bill No.2 of 2017 emanated from a private member's bill tabled by Igara West MP, Raphael Magyezi. Its enactment removed the upper age cap of 75 years and the lower age cap of 35 years for any citizen to contest for the highest office in the land. Read Me

HEALTH;

If your feet swell get concerned; Pedal edema is the medical term health experts use to refer to swollen feet. There are several conditions that usually cause feet to swell such as pregnancy, injury and walking for long distances, among others. Read More

BUSINESS;

MTN, CIPLA to list on USE; this will end the six-year initial public offering drought at the USE. The exchange last had an IPO in 2012 when Umeme floated shares. Telecommunications giant MTN is also exploring ways to give Ugandans a share of its business, but is said to be still working on the best model. Read More

SPORTS;

2018 World Cup, Japan 2 Senegal 2; Japan and Senegal remain with the edge. Poland and Colombia have not picked a point yet and their meeting later today at the Kazan Arena will play a vital role in this group's dimension. Read More

And finally; Zimbabwe vote 'will go ahead' despite rally attack; Vice President Constantino Chiwenga -- who was among those injured in Saturday's attack -- said the first parliamentary and presidential polls of the post-Robert Mugabe era would go ahead as scheduled on July 30. Read More
